

Molly Claxton Johnson

She is truly the definition of a matriarch - the proud mother of four children, sixteen grandchildren, fourteen great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren.

She attended college for six years in preparation for ministry and service to God, first and foremost, and then to his people. With a servant's heart, she has happily served as an adult Sunday School teacher, a Chaplain for the Norman Rachel Bradley Missionary Board, and a choir member of Mount Hermon Baptist Church.
